Z E U G N I S

Herr Dipl.-Ing. Asker Kasim HASAN, geb. 1.1.1957 in Tuz/Irak, hat von 1976 bis 1978 an der Technical University in Bagdad/Irak Chemische Verfahrenstechnik studiert und seine Diplom für Chem. Verfahrenstechnik erhalten. Anschließend studierte er an der Universität in Surajewo/Jugoslawien, Fakultät Zenica und erhielt dort 1983 ein Diplom in Metallurgie (Eisenhüttenkunde).

An der RWTH Aachen legte er im April 1986 die Kenntnisprüfung zur Erfüllung der Promotionsvoraussetzung ab. Im Anschluß daran hat Herr Hasan in meiner Abteilung mit der Durchführung bestimmter Untersuchungen über die Reduzierbarkeit von Eisenerzen, die unter verschiedenen Bedingungen gesintert wurden, begonnen. Danach hat er sich mit einer Forschungsarbeit befaßt, die auch gleichzeitig das Thema seiner Dissertation war. Es handelt sich hierbei um das Verhalten von Gasblasen in flüssigen Medien verschiedener Viskositäten, sowie geschmolzene Schlacken unterschiedlicher Zusammensetzungen.

Trotz experimenteller Schwierigkeiten, insbesondere bei hohen Temperaturen, ist es ihm gelungen, die Arbeit erfolgreich zu Ende zu führen.

Herr Hasan war während der Zeit seiner Doktorarbeit bis Mai 1987 als wissenschaftliche Hilfskraft und danach als wissenschaftlicher Mitarbeiter in meiner Abteilung tätig. Neben seiner Forschungsarbeit nahm er an der Betreuung von Studenten im Rahmen des Eisenhüttenmännischen Praktikums am hiesigen Institut teil, wo er selbständig Übungen erstellte und Vorträge hielt.

Herr Hasan war ein aktiver Mitarbeiter und zeigte außerordentliches Geschick und technisches Verständnis bei der Durchführung seiner experimentellen Arbeit. Es gelang ihm in einer relativ kurzen Zeitspanne, bedeutende Ergebnisse in seinem Forschungsgebiet zu erzielen, die einen wichtigen Fortschritt zum besseren Verständnis der zugrundeliegenden Prozesse darstellen.

Der Erfolg dieser Forschungsarbeit war nicht zuletzt durch seinen fachmännischen Einfluß auf seine Mitarbeiter, die ihm im Laufe der Zeit Respekt und Achtung schenkten, zurückzuführen.

Herr Hasan verläßt uns mit Ablauf des Monats April 1989, um eine Stelle in der Industrie aufzunehmen. Für seinen weiteren Lebensweg und sein berufliches Fortkommen wünsche ich ihm alles Gute.
